

DO YOU OWE MONEY TO THE COURT (LFOs) BECAUSE OF A CRIMINAL CONVICTION?

If you are very low income and you owe Legal Financial Obligations (LFOs) because you were convicted of a crime, we may be able to help, especially if:

- You have a disability and are unable to work; and/or
- Your only source of income is Social Security (SSI or SSDI)

To find out whether you qualify for assistance, call the Northwest Justice Project at 1-888-201-1014.

What is Northwest Justice Project?

The Northwest Justice Project (NJP) is a statewide non-profit organization with 18 offices in Washington State that provide free legal services to low-income people. NJP's mission is to provide high quality free legal services on priority problems to eligible low-income clients, either directly or through efficient and effective referrals.
